

Generation 3

Daniel Demott/Dimmitt/Dimmock/ Ward was born 1804 in Prince Edward Island, Canada. PEI's length through the center of the island is about 140 miles and breadth in the widest part, 34 miles. It is separated from N.S. by the Strait of Northumberland, which is only 9 miles broad between Cape Traverse and Cape Tormentine. Cabot named it Isle Saint John.

Research as of March, 2015 suggest his parents were Ebenezer Ward and Margaret Clark. He may have had a sister, Phoebe Clark Ward, who married William Weeks in PEI. They emigrated to Linn Co., IA in 1854 by wagon through Detroit, Michigan with their family of 5 daughters and 2 sons. Phoebe died 1 Feb 1873 in Linn County and is buried in Pleasant Hill Cemetery, Delaware County Iowa, USA. There might be two more siblings, John R. Ward and Ebenezer Jr. Records weren't required to be kept other than church or town or a mention in the newspaper.

Daniel married first Margaret Full in Yarmouth, N.S.

Daniel and Margaret were married Thurs., 12 Nov. 1835 at Yarmouth by Rev. Mr. Burton.

At Yarmouth, on the 12th inst. By the Rev. Mr. Burton, Mr. Daniel Ward, to Miss Margaret Fel, at this place.

From there they moved to Port Huron, Michigan.

In 1846/7 Sarah Ann was born in Canada, probably Adelaide or Brooke Township, London County, Canada West (later Ontario). I haven't found her baptism.

during the temporary residence of his parents at that place, having moved from New York a short time previously. At the age of two removed to Port Huron, Mich., and in 1856 moved to Quincy, Ill., thence to Ralls county, Mo., in 1857. Here for four years he heard the doctrine of secession advocated and taught, and in 1861 saw it materialize into open rebellion. His father being a great lover of the Union, taught his family reverence for the flag and was for these reasons obliged to seek an asylum elsewhere, moving to Payson, in Dec. '61. Residing at the latter place until October '63, the subject of this sketch enlisted, joining the company at Corinth. Was continuously with the company in all its movements from time of joining until mustered out, July 13, '65, and was selected as one of the History Committee. Can be seen in the Group.

They moved back to Port Huron in 1850 where Harriet was born in 1851. Again in Canada, Rosaman was born in Bayham Twp. 1852, then William about 1854.

They baptized the children in the Wesleyan Methodist Church.

CANADA WEST: DISTRICTS, COUNTIES & TOWNSHIPS OF 1846

Note that in 1842 Upper and Lower Canada united to form the Province of Canada. Upper Canada (present-day Ontario) became known as Canada West while Lower Canada (present day Quebec) became known as Canada East.

For more information on boundary changes and name changes in present day Ontario, please go to my History & Timeline pages

Canada West was divided into twenty districts, which are then subdivided into counties, ridings and townships. The districts varied greatly in size, with the Western District containing 29 townships and the Prince Edward District containing 6.

As large districts were settled, and populations grew, smaller districts were formed from one large one. Colborne District was formed from Newcastle District; Simcoe District was formed from Home District and Huron District was formed from London District.

Townships also varied in size, with some as large as 90,000 acres and others as small as 20,000. Most townships were laid out in square blocks but some were not - and their divisions are beyond description. The townships are divided into concessions, generally running east to west, and north to south. However when a river ran through a township, the lots were laid out to face the river, no matter what direction that was. Concessions were generally divided into lots of 200 acres each, and half lots of 100 acres each.

Almost half the surveyed lands of Upper Canada were purchased after 1818 from native tribes.

1850 they were living in Port Huron, Michigan. Daniel, 45, Carpenter was born Prince Edward Island, Harriet, Nova Scotia. Harriet was 28. Their route to Illinois no doubt through Detroit, Michigan. Probably by water.

Phoebe Clark Ward Weeks who I want to be Daniel's sister came through this way in a covered wagon in 1854. See Phoebe's story at the end of this chapter.

I don't know what route they would have traveled. These roads weren't there!

1860 Spencer Twp., Rolls Co., MO. Daniel, 55, farmer, value of real estate $500, personal $250. Harriet, 35

The family was living in Quincy, Adams County, Illinois when John Redding was born in 1858 but already in Spencer Twp., Ralls County, Missouri when Albert Lafayette Ward was born Dec. 7, 1859.

Daniel's anti slavery views made them unwelcome in Missouri and they were "encouraged" to leave there, possibly by "Bushwhackers". Family lore says they were visited one night, Daniel had a noose around his neck and Harriet begged for his life. They left Missouri the same night.

Who were the Bushwhackers?

By KELLY BRADHAM
Sports Editor

Just who were these people that have come to be known as Bushwhackers?

A lot has been written about the Jayhawkers from across the border, but as is usually the case, the victors write the history books and the cause for which the Bushwhackers devoted their efforts has been given scant notice in the annals except to be called murderers and thieves.

History of Vernon County, Missouri, published by Brown (no author was listed in the book) in 1887, tells just who these Bushwhackers were and what they did.

According to Brown, "The year 1861 closed in Vernon County with things in bad condition and troublous times impending. The county was ranged through at times by scouting parties of Kansas troops and Confederate partisans. The headquarters of the former were at Fort Scott; of the latter, in the brush.

A desire for an irregular military life possessed many of the Confederates. The restraints of a disciplined army were not to their liking. They preferred to remain at or near their homes, to live, even in the woods and brush, without work, and subsist themselves upon their neighbors and friends, rather than go to the regular Confederate army and share its experience and destiny.

"At home they knew the country, and this knowledge was of advantage to them in many ways. By keeping in small bands, they could move from place to place swiftly and secretly, or they could remain in a secluded camp a considerable period without attracting attention. They need not fight unless they desired, and they might always be the victors if they wished; if they encountered a force they could not whip, they could run away from it. There were fine opportunities too, for foraging upon the enemy. Horses and other property were to be had

Harriet delivered a stillborn son in Payson, Adams Co., Illinois and died Dec. 1861. Charles DeWolfe enlisted in the Union Army 20 Sept. 1861. Francis enlisted Oct. 1863. The family started to fall apart without Harriet. Before 1870 all the children were scattered to 5 states. Where were Daniel's and Harriet's family? Why didn't they step up and take the children? Maybe they lost touch with all the moving around. Or maybe Daniel had no family left. Harriet was the youngest so all her siblings would have been aging and maybe not able to care for young children even if the children were split up among several families.

Research in 2015 suggests that Daniel had a sister, Phoebe Clark Ward Weeks, who emigrated from Canada to Iowa by wagon through Detroit, Michigan in 1854. She and her family were living in Linn Co., Iowa and it's possible she might have taken Albert, Rosamond and Sarah. Sarah married Alexander Rollo in 1865 and Rosamond married George Edwards in 1868, both in Linn County. Phoebe died in 1873 and is buried in Pleasant Hill Cemetery Delaware County, Iowa. <http://www.findagrave.com/cgi-bin/fg.cgi?page=gr&GRid=32957147> So maybe she wasn't able to keep Albert and he was given first to the Evans family and second the John Devlin family. It looks like Albert was in both census that were taken in 1870 about 3 weeks apart. However the census taken the 25th & 26th of July, 1880 is confusing. The enumerator has not made it clear who lived together in which house. I wonder if Albert was living with John McCoy who he later worked for. See Albert's story for details.

PTISFE.—An old man, named Ward, arrived here on the train from Kansas, Friday last. He is paralyzed in the lower limbs, having no use of himself at all. He was dead broke, had no attendant and was as pitiful a looking sight as one will see in a lifetime. Marshal McClintock took him in charge and, as neither of the hotels would receive him, took him to the calaboose. He had been living with a son in Kansas who shipped him here to go to another son who lives near Pennington's Point. Any man who will send his father away in this destitute and helpless condition not only has none of the milk of human kindness in his soul, but has no soul; that is, if it was possible for him to do better. McClintock sent word to the son near Pennington's Point and he came in Saturday, paid all expenses and took the old gentleman home with him.

PLENTY OF ROOM.—There is an impression among the people that the felling of trees, burning of lumber etc., virtually destroyed the camping ground on Spring Creek and that the Macomb District camp meeting would therefore have to be held at some other point. We learn from Elder B. E. Kaufman that this is a * Dec. 2015 This is not proven yet. Enough of the details fit that it's very possible these are the people I've been looking for.

*Phoebe Clark Ward born 5 July 1809 in Prince Edward Island might be Daniel's sister. She married William Weeks 11 Feb. 1834 at the house of John Clark, Tryon, PEI. John must have been related to Phoebe's mother, Margaret Clark who married Ebenezer Ward at Tryon, PEI. The Royal Gazette 17 Oct 1792: Was lately married at Tryon, Mr. Ebenezer Ward of Bedeque, to Miss Peggy Clark, of Tryon.

Phoebe, William, and their children (Mary Jane Clark Weeks, Louisa Weeks, William H Weeks, Amelia Weeks, Sarah Elizabeth Weeks and Joseph Edgar Weeks) immigrated to the U.S. through Detroit, Michigan Feb. 1854 in a wagon. In those days you just went across the border. No big deal.

Daniel and Harriet were living in Michigan in 1846 and again in 1850. Harriet Jr. was born there in 1851. They named a son Edgar in 1860. Was that after Phoebe's son Joseph Edgar Weeks? Daniel and Harriet also named children Mary Louise and William Cook Ward. Emilia was baptized by Charles DeWolf. Daniel and Harriet named their first son Charles Dewolf Ward.

Phoebe's family was living in Hazel Green, Delaware County Iowa in the 1860 census. Albert, Sarah and Rosamond could have lived with her for a time between 1863 and the 1870 census. Phoebe died 1 Feb. 1873 in Linn County, Iowa and is buried in Pleasant Hill Cemetery, Delaware County, Iowa. Albert's fiancé, Maria Grassfield died 1895 and is buried in Oak Shade Cemetery in Marion, Linn County, Iowa.

This is bits and pieces. Either they fit or I've made them fit but without any paper trail, here we still are. More questions than answers.

Searches of databases are frequently made under the assumption that our ancestors gave the correct answers, that those answers were written legibly and that the writing was transcribed correctly. Not everything told to the enumerator of the census was the truth. Keep in mind that your relative may have told the census taker anything.

And new clues to pursue as of Nov. 14, 2017. Wouldn't it be great if this John was Daniel's brother, and this Margaret was his mother?

Daniel might have had a brother John.

Niagra Falls is quite a distance from London, Ontario but considering how much they traveled I suppose it wouldn't matter. Thornold is just a few miles from Niagara. And Daniel did live somewhere in NY for a short time before Frances was born in 1844. Maybe he lived near her. Maybe she died at that time. I'm sure they would have gone by boat and there is the Thames River through London but I don't know if they could have gone through Lake Erie and then up to London. The railroad wouldn't have been there yet.
